

MIRCIM 2017

3rd McMaster International Review
Course in Internal Medicine

Dear Colleagues,

It is my pleasure to invite you to attend the conference and workshops on Evidence-based medicine and clinical practice guidelines in contemporary healthcare. This conference will be held on May 11, 2017, in Kraków, Poland, as a satellite event to the 3rd McMaster International Review Course in Internal Medicine (May 12–13; www.mircim.eu). MIRCIM participants will have the opportunity to attend this EBM conference for free.

We will provide a comprehensive, informative, and entertaining introduction to both EBM and clinical practice guideline development. I'm pleased that we've been able to recruit an outstanding group of speakers, who have demonstrated their ability to present the material in a way that is not only succinct, clear, and easily understandable, but also compelling and engaging.

Several lectures will be followed by small-group workshops designed to expand on participants' topics of interest.

The conference and workshops will take place in the ICE Kraków Congress Centre, located near Kraków's famous tourist attractions. Kraków itself is a great city to visit, and I am sure you will enjoy the leisure time that I hope you will include in your travel plans.

Looking forward to seeing you in Kraków.

Looking forward to your reply,
Sincerely yours

Gordon Guyatt, Conference Chair
